

Remember, No Matter How Upset You Feel... Shaking Your Baby - Is Just Not the Deal!

Parent Education Resource Materials Order Form

Babies need parents, family members and carers who can provide a safe, comfortable and nurturing environment. Caring for a baby when there are other family and personal stressors increase the risk that a baby's needs may become overwhelming to the person caring for them. If these situations are coupled with periods of crying the risk of shaking is also increased.

This 3 ½ minute DVD has been produced to provide information to parents, carers and professionals about responding to a crying baby. Its goal is to ensure that all those involved with babies understand the importance of not shaking a baby, ever. It is suitable for use by parent educators, in schools, in hospitals, doctor's surgeries, in child care centres and for personal use by parents and carers wanting to educate babysitters, family friends and young people. Pamphlets and posters are also available to supplement the DVD and a training manual is available on request for use by educators.

NEW Multi-lingual DVD (released November 2009)

Contains audio and sub-titles for the following languages: English, Vietnamese, Cantonese, Mandarin, Dinka, Arabic, Farsi, Hindi, Sudanese, Turkish, Spanish and Dari.

The English Only DVD is still available
